

I'm not robot!

What's in the Box? - You get the main unit, a small cleaning brush, charger, some documents & manuals, a handy carry bag which is made up of a very light flimsy kind of material. The packaging differs from product to product as I have seen from some other reviews. Mine came in a brown box, which read Philips Series 3000, manufactured in Indonesia and imported by Philips India. Some other boxes are made in India products I guess. Either way, product is genuine and new and works flawlessly. Charging - Battery is the biggest advantage of this charger, as you don't have to charge it again and again. QT4011 charge time is just 1 hour and you can use it for around 1.5 to 2 hours. This is brilliant in my view, compared to some other trimmers which have much more charging time, and working time is actually lesser than this (in similar price range of course). While charging, the power indicator lights up in green color and keeps blinking to signal charging. Only negative that I found was that the charger could have been micro-USB, because with this specially designed charger, you have to carry an extra one while traveling along with your phone charger. Also, in case it's lost or damaged, it'll be difficult to find a replacement (maybe). Performance - Please note that this is a trimmer and not a shaver, so don't expect a clean shave even at the maximum setting. As a trimmer, it works flawlessly. It has different length settings, and without the combing head, it gives a close trim of up to 0.5 mm. I have used it multiple times to trim my beard at different length settings, and it has given satisfactory results. The trimmer can be used on chest, underarms, and can even trim pubic hair. However, don't use it on the balls, can be a bit risky (didn't try it). The cord length is roughly 2 metres, and is sufficient. Overall, the trimmer is really handy, portable, battery lasts really long and gives a good trim. You can't ask for more at this price range. Hope this review helped you in making a decision.
